

THERE is a report, probably premature, that Germany will treat the Treaty of Versailles as abrogated if the disarmament conference fails, and resume freedom of action in her own armaments. Stresemann is too practical a man to disrupt the new peace of Europe by actually taking any such overt step. The most he will do is to make the argument that, by the language of the treaty, Germany would be logically justified in this course. The purpose would be, not to carry out the threat, and so start Europe in another armament race in which Germany would be the first to be ruined, but to bring the other powers to a realization of their responsibility to obey the treaty which they are enforcing on Germany.

BY THE very language of the Treaty of Versailles, the purpose of the disarmament of Germany was to make possible the disarmament of other nations. The Covenant of the League of Nations binds the nations to take steps to disarmament, "to the lowest point consistent with national safety and the enforcement by common action of international obligations." The Council is required to propose steps to this end. It is therefore not a new project, to be considered, but an old one, already agreed on, with only its details left unsettled. The powers are obliged to do something, and disarmed Germany is their pledge that they will do so. Logically, if they do not, Germany has a talking point. Practically, it should not go beyond that. But even within this limit, it will be useful, to remind the truculent rebels that the old world, on whose psychology they are basing their present policies, has been officially abolished, by their action and sanction.

CONGRESSMAN Englebright will press his bill to exempt gold-mining revenues from the income tax. From the standpoint of an important California industry, whose relation to prosperity is the exact reverse of that of all others, there will be much sympathy with the measure. The price of gold never changes. A gold dollar, or the gold to make it of, is always worth exactly a dollar, for the same reason that a yard is always exactly a yard long. So, if the cost of gold mining rises, by higher prices of labor and equipment, there is no way to pass it on. It all comes out of the profits. Likewise with the taxes. There is no way to pass anything on. Naturally, many gold mines which were once profitable can now not be run except at a loss.

THIS from the standpoint of the gold miners, who naturally think their industry has as good a right to prosper as any other. But do they realize that their present plight is precisely the reason why gold is the world's standard of value? Gold is scarce, valuable in proportion to bulk, convenient and universally desired—but above all, it changes less in value, measured by other commodities, than almost anything else. It is to the interest of all other values, except that of gold, that this does approximately continue is that the supply automatically regulates itself. When gold gets too cheap, as shown by everything else becoming too dear, the marginal mines stop producing and the metal so becomes scarcer. This keeps prices from rising indefinitely. When general prices are thus lowered, and the price of gold is thereby raised, some of these mines can afford to open, and prices are raised or steadied. Gold is thus the regulator. The temporary inability of some mines to make profits is the index. To help out the miners is to upset this regulatory process. It is the ups and downs of the miners that prevent other ups and downs from going too far.

SENATOR Borah predicts the nominations of Coolidge and Smith, both on dry platforms. The prediction as to nominations is in line with present probabilities, but the prophecy that Al Smith will run on a dry plank is startling. It at least served as the vehicle for a good Borah epigram. "From the time he leaves Manhattan Island," said Senator Borah, "and crosses over into the United States," he will see things as Americans do. Which is improbable, but amusing. New York City is a part of Europe, in everything but governmental jurisdiction. That is one reason why Al Smith will never be President. He is too characteristically a product of Manhattan Island, which millions of Americans besides Senator Borah do not regard as a part of the United States. It will be difficult for him to get out of it himself, and impossible to get him out of it in the mind of the people.

OF COURSE, if Senator Borah's prediction should come true; if both platforms should be dry, and if the people could believe that both parties and the candidates meant it, that would be a great boon, not particularly to the dry cause, which is safe anyway, but to all other causes. The great danger is that this one issue, about which nothing can be done, will obliterate all others, as to many of which there are urgent things to be done. If there is any way to keep it out of politics, so much the better. Platforms alone can not. Platforms plus candidates might. But not if one of them is Al Smith. That miracle Senator Borah may prevail, but it can not happen.

FEAR FELT FOR PILOT, PASSENGER
Believe Mail Machine Met Disaster in San Joaquin Hills or Fell Into Bay
DEPUTIES LEAD POSSE
Men Form Mile-Long Line And Begin Intensive Hunt Of Valley Back-Country
(By United Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—All Crissey field army flyers on leave were recalled today to search for Edward Nether, coast air mail pilot, and his passenger, Albert Schaller, an official of the Pacific Air Transport company.

Some time between 3:30 a.m. and dawn, yesterday, the airplane bearing the two men met disaster. Whether it was in the rugged Livermore hills or in San Francisco bay is unknown.

The Livermore district, where it felt the plane may possibly have been wrecked, is dotted with ranches and homes and it seems hardly possible to searchers that the airplane could have been wrecked there and escaped detection this long.

Likewise, it did not appear probable that the craft could have plunged into the bay here while pilot Nether was seeking to break through the fog and find the Crissey field landing area, without some wreckage floating to the surface.

Flyers are Recalled

Major D. C. Emmons, Crissey field commander, this morning recalled all flyers on leave, at 10 service planes started another patrol over the air mail course. Eighteen planes are expected to be on duty when personnel arrives to man them. Each plane carries a pilot, observer and a radio outfit.

The army will take part in the hunt as far south as Fresno, Major Emmons said.

Major Emmons personally took part in the hunt this morning, leaving Crissey field at 8:30 for a flight over the territory where the main plane may be wrecked.

The hunt was declared the most intensive army flyers have made since Colonel Marshall and Lieutenant Weber were lost in Southern California some years ago.

One amphibian plane was used in the search, piloted by Master Sgt. Thomas Lawlor.

A posse of several score persons, headed by Deputy Sheriffs Jack Collier and J. L. Davis, left Livermore this morning to search on foot the hills in that section. The men formed in a mile-long line and, armed with axes to cut their way through the brush, will cover the entire back country.

Both the missing men lived here. The plane left Los Angeles at mid-night Saturday on the regular trip north to Seattle. It carried three sacks of mail and Schaller as a passenger.

At Fresno on Schedule

The craft reached Fresno on schedule, at 2:30, and was due in San Francisco at 5:30.

Persons at Madera, Chowchilla, Livingston, and other up-valley points reported having heard or seen the craft flying steadily north, bound for its next stop at Crissey field here.

But the plane did not arrive. That it met with an accident now is felt certain and that it may have crashed into the bay, diving to the bottom instantly with its passengers, is one of the strongest theories advanced.

The police department was expected to put the bay patrol in action today to search for traces of the craft floating on the water. Dragging may be resorted to.

Policeman Is Killed in Bandit Trap

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—Investigation into charges that members of a volunteer suburban fire department started a score of fires to add to its pay checks was continued here today, with four men under arrest and fifth sought in an eastern city.

Harris emptied his revolver of five shots before he died with a bullet in his heart and another in his wrist. Harris and Policewoman Rena J. Wright had parked in a clump of trees back of the Roosevelt junior high school, hoping to entrap a bandit who has held up several parked couples recently.

According to Lt. W. S. Christopher, of the South Gate police department, who arrested the four firemen, the men were paid on the basis of the number of alarms answered.

Steps will be taken to extradite Berger De Yager, former chief of the fire department, who left South Gate two weeks ago from his home in Garfield, N. J. The former chief is alleged to have been the leader in the arson plot.

Those under arrest are Ray Gould, Elwood Brevis, Thomas Bosques and Jerome J. Jenkinson. They are being held in the county jail, charged with arson.

removed due to the fact that it was endangering the ship."

Three Chinese were wounded, one probably fatally, Williams said.

Williams reported a demonstration was planned for today by agitators.

The American consul, he said, is aboard the Monocacy, awaiting a trip from missionaries in the interior.

The British gunboats Manals, Widgeman and Teal arrived at Ichang from Chungking, Williams said. At Ichang Communistic placards have been posted on residences and business places.

Capt. J. M. Enoch, commander of the south China patrol, has informed Williams that a demonstration also is planned today at Canton over the Nanking and Shanghai victories.

"Both the Japanese and British have issued instructions to their citizens living in the outer districts of Canton to concentrate on Shamen," Williams said. "Americans and other foreigners also are standing by to assemble at the same place. Every possible assurance has been given by the local Nationalist commanding general and the acting minister for foreign affairs that all foreign homes and places of business would be given every protection. From an American, who is supposed to be high in the confidence of certain Nationalist government officials, comes assurance that no trouble should be feared."

BRITISH SAILORS AND CHINESE COOLIES CLASH

LONDON, April 4.—An exchange telegraph dispatch from Hong Kong today said British sailors and Chinese coolies clashed at Shashi after a case of foreign goods had been confiscated and burned by the Chinese. Anti-foreign feeling was increasing at Shashi, the dispatch said, and conditions were becoming chaotic.

Chinese police were said to have been routed in a second street fight, after a hand-to-hand engagement with labor pickets. Bandits raided a Chinese shipping office and looted the contents.

CANTONESE DRIVE FOR PEKING UNDER WAY

LONDON, April 4.—The Cantonese drive for Peking was under way today, dispatches from special correspondents to three London newspapers reported.

The Nationalists already have captured Pengpu, 100 miles north of Nanking, the Daily Express correspondent said.

A dispatch to the Daily Mail said the northerners were not offering the slightest resistance to the advancing armies. The southerners were pushing forward on three fronts, one from Chiang Kiang, one from Pukow and one from Nanking, it said, adding that northern troops from the interior were fleeing to Shantung province, while natives of Shantung were leaving for Manchuria.

The Daily Telegraph reported General Feng Yuh Sang to be advancing through the province of Shansi.

An Exchange Telegraph dispatch said guerrillas were active in Shansi and had been fired upon by British sailors. The Sunday Observer said Communism was rampant in Shanghai and Marshal Chiang Tso Lin, northern commander, had appealed to foreign ministers for support in his anti-red campaign.

It was reported in authoritative quarters that Britain is confident the United States and Japan will agree to join representations to the Cantonese over the Nanking incident and believes a note now being considered by the three governments will be delivered to the southern Chinese government within three days.

BOB BRADFORD VICTORIOUS IN SAN FRANCISCO

ORANGE COUNTY WILL CONDEMN LAND AT OLIVE

Carrying off the laurels yesterday in the musical contest for young singers in San Francisco, Robert Bradford is on his way to Portland, Ore., where he will participate in the semi-finals, the contest then to be transferred to Chicago.

Young Bradford was accompanied north by his teacher, Madame Manuela V. Budrov, who accompanied him in his numbers, and who returns home tomorrow, thrilled with the success of her pupil.

The young baritone is a native of Santa Ana and the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bradford of 154 Spurgle street. He was a favorite in high school and is rapidly making a place for himself on the musical ladder.

Five other contestants from Los Angeles participated in the contest, which included try-outs also for other musicians. The states sending representatives include California, Washington, Oregon, New Mexico, Arizona and Idaho, the contest being under supervision of the National Federation of Music clubs.

TRACE PIONEER
TITLES IN SUIT
OF S. A. FAMILY

Superior Judge E. J. Marks today was hearing the contest between Dr. J. G. Berneke, of Stanton, and Mrs. Katherine Louise Dow, of Long Beach, husband and daughter respectively of the late Marion Louise Berneke, which involves title to the estate of Mrs.
Berneke.

The family dispute, a triangular affair with the administrator of the estate, Charles D. Brown, included in it, involves the question whether the estate, a 10-acre orange grove at Stanton, was separate property of Mrs. Berneke, or community property, held jointly with Dr. Berneke.

The title question caused the case to trace back along a line of titles to the pioneer days of Santa Ana, when Dr. Berneke and his wife settled on North Main street in 1895. Dr. Berneke's attorneys, Kenneth H. Burns and C. N. Mozley, questioned him regarding the source of funds that built up their property holdings on North Main street, which holdings in turn led to ownership of the Stanton property, it was said. Dr. Berneke testified that his own earnings had helped toward acquiring the original property.

The title suit grew out of rival efforts by the physician and the daughter to be appointed to administer the estate, which is valued at about $20,000. The court declined to appoint either applicant
Brown to the place. Dr. Berneke then filed a suit to quiet title to his claim of an interest in the property. The administrator and Mrs. Dow both contend that the estate was separate property.

Ranged against Mozley and Burns in the case today was former District Attorney A. P. Nelson, their former chief in the district attorney's office, where both Mozley and Burns were deputies. Nelson represents Brown. Attorney
Charles Swanner represents Mrs.
Dow.

Divorce Granted To Mrs. Dowling

A decree of divorce granted to Mrs. Agnes Dowling, of Santa Ana, concluded a hearing that was started Friday before Superior Judge E. J. Marks.

Mrs. Dowling charged her husband, John Dowling, with cruelty.
He had told her that he didn't love her, and was paying attention to other women, she declared. No other woman was named in the case, however. Dowling did not oppose the suit.

Mrs. Dowling was granted custody of her daughter, aged 8. A property settlement, involving property valued at $15,000, had been made out of court, it was stated.
Attorneys Bishop and Wellington represented Mrs. Dowling.

Shortly after arriving here, Bell posted bail of $500 for his appearance in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, to answer to the two charges. Bell was originally arrested by F. G. Yoder, state traffic officer, on the Irvine boule-

PHONE 1672HOOVER TALKS ON POLICY OF FOREIGN TRADE*Say Hair Tells Race of Owner

CHICAGO, April 4.—Human hair betrays race, nationality, sex and probably age, the American Anthropological Association of Central United States, was informed at its annual meeting here by Morris Bernstein of New York City, a student at the University of Chicago, who has concluded detailed experiments with hair of all colors and coarseness.

An Irishman's hair, for instance, has different weight than an Italian's, and an old Irishman's hair, Mr. Bernstein said he believed, would show a definite difference from a young Irishman's.

This discovery has considerable importance in the realm of physical anthropology, Bernstein said, inasmuch as researches may now have to work upon as well as skulls in making anthropological determinations.

"Differences in hair weight are due to three causes," he said. "First, differences in quantity of pigment present; second, presence or absence of air bubbles; and third, differences in area of cross section, that is, coarseness of hair. Sexual differences seem to be due to the differences in area of cross section."

"Thus we have a great intermingling of citizens of different friendly countries. If we would keep this flow of vital materials in motion those strangers in the midst of every country must have protection for their lives and the property which they have lawfully acquired. The obligation to welcome and protect them is far higher a purpose than hospitality than merely extending them opportunity to make money. It is a vital principle that goes to the roots of modern civilization."

"The motive force of these vast exchanges is the citizens of each country, who must migrate to other countries for the promotion of the sale of goods which they

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—Policeman Broctor expressed sorrow when he told Charles Vulak, 55 years old, he would have to arrest him for "touching" a passer-by for a dime here.

The police officer's sympathy vanished when Vulak was searched at headquarters.

Papers in his pockets showed deposits totaling more than $4000 in banks in Florida, Chicago, Salt Lake City, San Francisco and Los Angeles. Vulak went to jail.

WAGES FOR WORKING FOLKS

JURIES CLEAR 2 WOMEN WHO KILLED MATES

CHICAGO, April 4.—A woman need not be young and she need not be beautiful to win acquittal on a murder charge in Chicago, two juries have decided on successive days.

Both times it was a middle-aged mother charged with slaying her husband and both times acquittal came quickly.

In the case of Mrs. Bertha Hellman, 48 years old, who strangled her husband to death with his own shirt during a quarrel, there was an apparent indifference to personal comeliness. Most of her adult years had been spent in hard work as she contributed to the support of herself and family. She is a large woman and muscular.

A jury required less than 30 minutes to exonerate her.

Mrs. Alma Olson, 46 years old, was garbed plainly and her features showed the strain of years of suffering. Testifying to the slaying of her husband, she used these words:

"I was sick and tired of it all. I followed him into the bathroom and shot him five times."

Mrs. Olson said her husband had hypnotic powers over her and that while she was under the Seven-gall influence her husband brought other women into their home. Even her own attorneys believed the jury they would be satisfied if she were ordered sent to a state institution for treatment.

The jury after short deliberation returned a verdict of not guilty, holding that Mrs. Olson was insane at the time of the crime, but had since recovered.

From humble beginnings, gloves rose to be badges of rank and priestly office. They still retain a vestige of their former distinction as emblems of gentility.

Man and Wife Expect to Circumnavigate Earth In Only 24 Days

NEW YORK, April 4.—Bumming an airplane ride around the world. That is the plan of a New York couple, a quiet, unassuming pair of seasoned fliers who have made cloud-skimming their hobby.

Maj. and Mrs. Lester D. Gardner will leave New York City's bright lights behind them at midnight the first auspicious night next April and, using only established airlines, will encircle the globe, listing their progress according to pre-arranged schedule.

The how to hang up a new record of 24 days.

Will Keep Expense Account

While they intend to pick up rides more or less blind-baggage from friendly pilots enroute, they are going to keep an itemized expense account of all expenses.

They want to prove that the average American man and wife in moderate circumstances can take a three-week vacation and tour the world together.

Major Gardner is 51. There is a faint tinge of gray at his temples. He has a neatly trimmed mustache and wears horn-rimmed glasses through which his eyes peer blue and piercing. They have helped him pick his way through the enveloping mists of the Caribbean, Atlantic and Mediterranean. They have hovered over sandy wastes of the Sahara, guided him over the snow-capped Alps, seen the Russian steppes in the moonlight, the Ganges at dawn and have ferreted out a landing place for him in the green jungle land of the Congo.

From Private to Major

Major Gardner enlisted as a private during the war and ended up organizing air squadrons at Kelly field, Texas, a full-fledged major.

At his publishing offices here, he paced the room as he outlined his schedule. He can beat the established round-the-world record of 28 days 14 hours and 35 minutes if his plans click, he says. He is going to pick up rides from pilot cronies scattered all over the globe.

"I have been invited by Soviet Russia and the German Luftwaffe combine to use their ships," he says. "And here are two cables inviting me to make the opening ride on the new Peking-to-Moscow line. The Korea-to-Peking line will be opened soon and I will be all set to pioneer the first regular journey around the world on the established chain."

"I tell you"—and here he wheeled and pounded his desk in emphasis—"the day of commercial aviation has arrived. Pilots are safe, reliable, convenient and inexpensive. It makes me bold to hear nitwits who know nothing about aviation dismiss it coolly with joking remarks that 'the ground is good enough for me.' That impedes progress and American aviation can brook little inference."

Leave New York for Seattle

"Here's our schedule," he said, and he hauled out his maps and listed the major jumps. "We leave on the night plane from New York to Seattle. Take a steamer from Seattle to Yokohama. Fly from Yokohama to Saseko. Shoot across the Korea strait to Fusian, Korea, then to Mukden in Manchuria. Then we fly to Peking and jump another airline to Moscow and Koenigsberg, in East Prussia. Then into the established and flourishing airlines to Berlin, to Cologne, to London and finally New York."

"No especial planes, no special trains, nothing tricky or stony—but I'm sure we'll fly back with a new record to beat the 28-day dash of Linton Wells."

IN HOT WATER

CHRISTCHURCH, Eng., April 4.—An old law which makes it an offense to ask for hot water resulted in the arrest of William Murray, a tramp. The law was passed on the theory that cold water is available in any house, but that a householder must prepare hot water and thus perhaps give a tramp a chance to steal some.

DEER LACK FOOD

OLEAN, N. Y., April 4.—Hunger is driving deer from the mountains into civilization. They seem weak from lack of food and do not run at the approach of automobiles. One motorist actually ran into a group of three, one buck being bowled over several times before he regained his feet and fled into the woods.

Hostess Group Offers Friendly Hospitality At Bridge Events

Young People Spring Wedding Surprise At Dinner Party

Two of the smartest parties of the spring season found their setting on two successive days, in the hospitable home of John E. Gowen, 928 Spurgeon street, when Mrs. Gowen with a few of her friends, entertained on two successive days at the end of the past week.

On Friday, the hostesses were Mrs. Gowen, Mrs. W. H. Harrison and Mrs. Samuel M. Davis, while Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Gowen alone entertained on Saturday. Each day's hospitality took the form of a bridge luncheon, and each day saw a wealth of spring's most colorful and beautiful blossoms as a background for the guests in their smart spring gowns. The gardens of the hostesses, as well as those of their friends, offered tribute, and in addition some of the loveliest of the mountain flowers were used, delicately tinted mariposa lilies and blue lupine vying with ranunculus, sweet peas, and other garden flowers of the season.

Luncheon was served on small tables whose dainty linens were later exchanged for more utilitarian card table covers in the interest of the afternoon's amusement. On Friday, Mrs. W. D. Doll and Miss Maud Edwards assisted with the serving and Mrs. O. H. Eggin in checking the names of arriving guests. These friendly duties were divided on Saturday between Mrs. Harrison, one of Friday's hostess group, and Mrs. Edward M. Nealey.

Among prominent out-of-town guests who shared the pleasure of one or the other of the functions, were Mrs. Albert Hayes of Los Angeles, and Miss Elizabeth Brownlee of Gaithersburg, Ill., who is spending several months in southern California, close friends of Mrs. Gowen, and Miss Dorothy Pattee of Minneapolis, a cousin of Mrs. Davis, who has been spending the winter in California, with headquarters in Long Beach.

Beautiful gifts were awarded those who made special scores each day, and on Friday, Mrs. Leonard G. Swales secured the handsome sterling silver candlesticks offered as reward to the one scoring high. A silver cake plate was presented as second prize to Mrs. Frank Minor, a guest in the city, and a pair of cologne bottles in hand-decorated china, offered ample consolation to Mrs. E. E. Keech.

Kansas City and Detroit are rival applicants for the honor of entertaining next year's tournament of the American Bowling congress.

A delightful cabaret dinner planned by Miss Mary Jo Covington of Glendale for a group of her Santa Ana friends and held Saturday evening in her home on Virginia avenue, developed an unexpected feature in the form of a wedding announcement, that of Miss Ruby Alma Walker and Harold C. Croft.

Miss Walker and her sister, Miss Beulah Walker, were honorees at the dinner, which was planned as a formal courtesy for them their departure with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Walker, 921 Kilson Drive, for Colorado Springs.

The group of young people asked to share the merry evening, included the Misses Ruby and Beulah Walker, Margaret Wood, Gall Baldwin, Isabel Wood and Evelyn Youn, and Messrs. Harold Croft, John Ward, Robert Greenleaf, Vernon Heckart and "Tubby" Trenton, of Junior college, U. S. C. and Southern Branch circles.

The lively young guests gathered promptly, with the exception of Miss Walker and Mr. Croft. Miss Covington delayed dinner as long as possible and had finally asked her guests to seek their places, when a telegram arrived, announcing that "Mr. and Mrs. Harold Croft were leaving for the Grand Canyon on their honeymoon following their wedding in Riverside on March 24."

The telegram was the first intimation given of the wedding and the fact that Miss Walker would not accompany her parents and sister to their new home in Colorado Springs. Instead the newlyweds will return from the Grand Canyon to a cozy home at 501 Wisteria Place. The bride was a member of the 1926 class graduating from Santa Ana high school. Mr. Croft is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Croft, 1217 North Van Ness avenue, and is with the Santa Ana Ignition works.

After the merrymakers at Miss Covington's party had calmed down a bit from the excitement caused by the telegram, they turned their attention to the delectable dinner, served at small tables arranged with red and white checked gingham covers. Light was afforded by candles thrust into bottles, and the Bohemianism of a cabaret was emphasized by the trailing serpentines confetti which draped all the light fixtures. Dancing and cards provided the after-dinner entertainment.

Voters that vote. Voters that vote occasionally. Voters that do not register. Let's tag ourselves. Seeing that we are a democratic people with a Republican administration (most of the time), let's substitute a record of achievement in lieu of a volume of promises.

The initiative and referendum matters that have come to fuss us lately, oh, my. How we wade through columns of colored information, inspired editorials and arguments pro and con to get the Senegambian joker gleefully hiding out in them.

Woman's suffrage has helped a lot. Women have it on mere men. They can but do not have to think. Intuition is far more deadly. You can't fool a woman even part of the time. She just naturally savvies. Her very existence has depended upon it for centuries.

C. OF C. ENTERS AIR CAMPAIGN TO BOOST CITY

In celebration of the first year's operation of the air mail between Los Angeles and Salt Lake by the Western Air Express, members of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce senior and junior divisions, will join in dispatching a veritable flood of special air mail greeting cards to friends in the east, the good will messages to be sent April 17, according to Secretary George Raymer.

Every member of the chamber will be asked to send at least one card to an eastern friend by means of the air mail. If more cards are sent from Santa Ana than any other city in Southern California outside of Los Angeles a member of the chamber of commerce will be given a free trip over the company's lines to Salt Lake City and return. A special invitation has been extended to Raymer to make the trip on April 30 and if Santa Ana wins the contest this city will get double publicity, it was pointed out.

Santa Ana is well established on the aeronautical map of the United States by means of an active Air club, a chamber of commerce interested in flying and well known aviators, Raymer continued, and it is to increase the fame of this city as a flying center that such an active effort is being made in behalf of the air mail.

Concerning the air mail, Raymer said:

"The United States has the world's fastest and cheapest air mail service."

"Two hundred airplanes fly 18,000 miles daily over U. S. air mail routes."

"Nearly one-third of all American air mail flies out or into Southern California every day."

"For 10 cents per half ounce letters and packages up to 50 pounds each may be sent via air mail anywhere."

"An average letter weighs only one-half ounce."

"You can save time and money by using air mail."

"More than 50,000 Southern Californians use air mail regularly."

"You may use any postage stamps, any envelope and any mail box for air mail."

"Southern California has the only daily, year round passenger service in America, cutting travel time to the east by 19 hours."

"The Western Air Express has the highest performance record of any commercial air line in the world."

"The Western Air Express has flown 400,000 miles without accident and only twice delaying air mail dispatch."

"The Western Air Express has given Southern California the best air mail service anywhere."

Raymer added that citizens who desired to send the cards might secure them from the offices of the Chamber of Commerce.

SURROUNDED BY WOLVES

HUNTSVILLE, Ont., April 4.—While making his way to a lumber camp near Algonquin Park, Elwood Bross was pursued by a pack of wolves. He fled onto the open ice, where the animals, 16 of them, surrounded him. Their howling attracted the attention of a game warden, who arrived before they closed on their victim. He shot seven before the pack fled.

GENERAL ROAD CONDITIONS

By Touring Department of National Automobile Club

The Old Spanish Trail route is now a 95 per cent improved, well maintained comfortable highway from San Diego, Calif., to St. Augustine, Fla., and nearly all federal standard construction which indicates standard provisions for safety and comfort-width curves, grades, drainage and general alignment. There still remain certain "barrier sections" on the remaining 5 per cent which may cause delays during stormy periods. These sections are now under construction and are scheduled for completion during the summer of 1927. As it is the main trunkline of the south, the route is easily followed.

The Topanga canyon road is in fair condition to the Topanga post office, but the balance of the road is in very poor condition. A bridge is out at the post office. The road from Santa Monica to Las Flores canyon is good to about a mile beyond Topanga canyon. The balance of the road is passable but quite narrow in places. The road from Los Flores canyon to Decker's ranch is passable but in very bad shape at the present time.

The 40 miles of road between Tumac and Wellton, Arizona, on the Old Spanish Trail route are somewhat rough. The repairs to road in vicinity of the Agua Fria river are going ahead rapidly and will be completed within a short time. It is no longer necessary to detour via Litchfield and Maricopa into Phoenix as a short detour off the main road is being used at the present time.

The speakers and topics are as follows:

Monday, Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church, "The Day of Authority."

Tuesday, Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church, "The Day of Controversy."

Wednesday, Rev. C. F. Seitter, pastor of the First M. E. church, "The Day of Retirement."

Thursday, Rev. W. E. Edgin, "The Day of Fellowship."

Friday, Rev. O. Scott Farland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, "The Day of Suffering."

In announcing the schedule, Dr. Benton took occasion to point out that these services are for the men and women of the community, and the ministers desire to have it fully understood that everyone is welcome, and that a large attendance is hoped for at each day's program.

The dissolution of the three classes was effected in order to bring the boys' class, the girls' class and the teachers training class together for joint meetings. The students decided that the class meetings were to be carried on as discussion groups.

Never hesitate to tell a woman she's beautiful. She'll believe you rather than her mirror.

What Do You Know About Sterling Plaster Board?

It is a light weight gypsum board that answers every wallboard purpose. It is made uniformly 1-4 inch thick in standard sheets 48 inches wide and 6 to 10 feet long.

Because it is made of gypsum rock, Sterling Wallboard cannot burn and is impervious to vermin. For the same reason, it is unaffected by climatic conditions and will not warp or buckle.

Why can't you be the next woman to have a New Easy in your home and see for yourself the amazing way it washes, damp-dries, and handles the water—all at the same time? It will cost you nothing to see this wash-day miracle. We will lend you a New Easy, put it in your home, and you may watch it do a whole week's washing free.

With your own eyes you will see the Easy's large tub take a great big eight-sheet batch of clothes and get them spotlessly clean. At the same time you will see the Easy's drying tub take another eight-sheet batch and damp-dry them ready for the line in three minutes. Think of it—sixteen double sheets (or the equal in other clothes) washed and damp-dried together—time absolutely cut in half.

Officers of the American Legion and prominent Santa Ana citizens have been extended invitations by Capt. D. L. Winans to attend the banquet. ORGAN PLAYS AGAIN

PARIS, April 4.—A gift of $500 from an anonymous American has enabled "the finest concert organ of Europe" to play again. Now it has electric motors to blow its 4070 pipes. It is the Trocadero, an auditorium with perfect acoustics.

AT THE THEATER

YOST BROADWAY THEATER

Two beggars, seeking alms at a fashionable wedding in a Venetian cathedral, and exposed as the most feared pair of crooks in the city of canals, through a ruse, in which the bridegroom and the bride's father are robbed, and the dignified ceremony is converted into a bedlam!

Such is the situation at beginning of Constance Talmadge's new comedy drama, "Venus of Venice," now showing at the Yost Broadway theater.

Hair-raising surprises and spontaneous outbursts of comedy alternate in such rapid fashion in this new Constance Talmadge screen opus that audiences find it impossible to determine which predominates.

Antonio Moreno, Julianne Johnston, Edward Martindel, Michael Vavitch, Anton Vaverka, Arthur Thalasso, Andre Lenoy, Hedda Hopper, Carmelita Geraghty, Mario Carillo, Tom Ricketts and Charles Herzinger are well-known players in the supporting cast.

The action of the picture takes place largely in the picturesque waterways of Venice. A portion of the famous city, including a network of canals covering several acres, was produced on the United Artists' lot in Hollywood.

WEST COAST-WALKER

Like small boys at a three-ring circus, yesterday's patrons of the West Coast-Walker theater wanted to look in every direction at once when the famous aerial ballet was introduced.

In fact they wanted to gaze in exactly 20 different directions, for the 20 Sun-Kist Beauties took part in the unique feature, pirouetting and dancing in mid-air in amazing fashion. The chorus had been trained by Marie Sweeney, noted aerial artist, who accompanied a recent bill at the West Coast-Walker, was greeted with much interest.

Associated with the Sun-Kist Beauties in the Fanchon and Marco Idea, is Miss Joan Knox whose amazing voice possessed three distinct variations, soprano, lyric soprano and contralto, and Carlos and Dorothy, favorites in this city, who offered a distinctly new feature in their Spanish dances.

The feature film, "The Wrong Mr. Wright" is of unusual interest to theater-goers, since it presents Jean Hersholt in his first stellar role.

There is the added interest of seeing Jean Hersholt, player of serious and semi-serious roles, in straight comedy. And that he has a decided flair for it, is proven by "The Wrong Mr. Wright." He has able support in Edna Bennett (the vampy lady detective who later falls in love with him), Walter Hiers, Dorothy Devore and Edgar Kennedy.

In connection with tonight's performance, the theater management has announced a ukulele contest in which the winner will be chosen as the West Coast-Walker theater entrant in the ukulele contest now being sponsored in Los Angeles by a morning newspaper. In addition others will be chosen for a several weeks' engagement with regular Fanchon and Marco bills.

THEY LIVE LONGER

NEW YORK, April 4.—The average span of life of the citizen of New York has doubled since 1800. Infants dying in their first year now number 63 in a thousand instead of 250, as was the case more than a century ago. All major diseases have been so reduced that the average duration of life now is 60 years, where it used to be 30.

WOULD CONVERT INDIANS

CINCINNATI, April 4.—Saved from massacre by a squaw when he was a baby in '49, Harry Baker, 78, is going to Bear Creek, Ariz., as a missionary to 400 Apaches, whose ancestors killed his parents in a prospecting party. The American Bible society mission gave him a farewell reception.

ed into five zones and that prices had been established for each zone on the basis of distance from the plants.

Prices may seem unfair when considered for the nearby and the distant points in the same zone," Barkman said, in explaining the cause for some complaints that have been heard in regard to discrimination.

Santa Ana Being Penalized
Jenkins today pointed out that Santa Ana was being penalized, in a way, by being charged the same rate for delivered material as is charged at Placentia.

"No doubt prices have been too low for the companies to operate at justifiable profits, but I think the schedule of prices should have been better adjusted as to distance of haul," Jenkins commented and he pointed out that Santa Ana is several miles nearer the producing plants than is Fullerton, Anaheim and Placentia, and other points where the same quotations prevail."

The manager of the Union Rock company, which recently took over the Kavanagh-Twohy plant at McPherson, said today the company in a few days would start repair of the damage done the plant in the recent floods, and that it was the intention of the company to continue operation of that plant, rumors to the contrary notwithstanding.

Rumors prevail that the Union company also has acquired the plant of the Yaeger Rock company. Failure met attempts of the Register to have officials of the two companies confirm the rumors.

"It is news to me," declared the sales manager of the Union Rock company, in Los Angeles, in a long distance conversation.

"Mr. Yaeger is not ready to make a statement," said a voice answering the telephone at the Yaeger plant in answer to a query as to why Mr. Yaeger had not responded to a telephone call from a Register representative left at the office of Yaeger Saturday afternoon.

NO SUMMER FOLLIES

NEW YORK, April 4.—Apparently it is not a case of cause and effect. Flo Ziegfeld announced that he would have no summer "follies" just as the Elaves costume company took steps in court to have some costumes returned to it or its bill of $17,000 paid.

MONEY FOR CHARITY

NEW YORK, April 4.—More than half a million of the three-quarters of a million bequeathed by a man who started earning money as a bootblack is to go to charity. Peter F. Myer rose to be a real estate auctioneer and a partner of Richard Croker.

January, 1925 — There was introduced a new Chevrolet which scored a tremendous success. Among its many new features were: a new and rugged rear axle, an improved unit power plant, a new single-plate disc-clutch, a much stronger frame, semi-elliptic chrome vanadium steel springs, cowls and dash-lamps, and new Fisher bodies finished in Duco... And the price of the Coach was

August, 1925 — Chevrolet announced a new measure of value based on many new quality features... such as motor-driven Klaxon horn, improved sheet metal construction in the bodies, corrugated steering wheel with walnut finish, new headlamp rim construction and a more convenient gear-shift lever. Yet, despite all the additions... The Coach was reduced to

January, 1926 — Another spectacular increase in Chevrolet value... a model offering many mechanical improvements, such as a smoother, quieter motor with three-point suspension, a silent V-belt generator drive, new oil pump, more efficient cooling, an air cleaner, larger brakes, etc. Notwithstanding these improvements... DECORATING AT ORANGE SHOW TO BE UNIQUE

P. G. Allen, well-known decorator of Los Angeles has been awarded the contract for decorating the seventh annual California Valencia orange show, to be held at Anaheim, May 19 to 25. The award was made following a conference held at the Anaheim chamber of commerce of the committee on decorations, headed by William Schureman as chairman and George W. Reid, manager of the show.

Allen's was only one of several bids for the work received at the office of Manager Reid and which were accompanied by illustrated plans.

The contract was awarded to Allen by the decoration committee on the strength of his national reputation as an artist in his line, according to Reid. Allen was called to St. Louis last year to decorate the mammoth Pageant of Progress held there and his contract was for $108,000. As a result of that work he has established a national reputation and is being sought by all parts of the country, Reid says.

Mrs. Allen will assist her husband in working out the decorations for the show. Both are enthusiastic over the enchanted story-book motif which has been adopted as the scheme of decoration and which will convert the entire exhibition into fairland.

The Alens are planning to commence at once on their decorations at their studio on Sunset boulevard, Los Angeles. There they will make the fairies and children of the story book who are to be scattered about through the enchanted forest which the main auditorium of the show is to depict. Their studio will be turned into a very unique factory, for they will turn out trees, swings, flowers and everything else that is found necessary to carry out the motif of decoration.

Fleet Concludes Battle Practice

WITH THE U. S. FLEET IN THE CARIBBEAN, APRIL 4.—The U. S. fleet has returned to Guantanamo after a five-day mimic engagement in the Caribbean. Admiral Hughes, commander, congratulated both sides on "the interesting and persistent conduct of the exercises."

Both sides held on tenaciously for five days in one of the longest and most complex strategical problems in naval history. Decision as to victory will be announced later.

As soon as the fleet arrived at Guantanamo, liberty parties put to shore joyously and the bluejackets received their long awaited mail from home.

Reid to Inspect Flood Problem

SACRAMENTO, April 4.—Congressman Frank R. Reid, Republican, Illinois, chairman of the house of representatives flood control committee, has accepted an invitation to come here and inspect the Sacramento region's flood control problem, according to word received by the chamber of commerce. The representative probably will be here early next month.

Governor Young's Daughter Sponsor Of 'Golden Poppy'

ALAMEDA, Calif., April 4.—With Miss Barbara Young, daughter of Gov. C. C. Young, as sponsor, the Transbay ferry Golden Poppy, latest addition to the Golden Gate Ferry company's fleet, has been launched here. The boat will be ready for service within a month. It will have accommodations for about 100 automobiles.

NARROWER BODY SUGGESTED FOR SPEEDIEST CAR

DOTONNIA BEACH, Fla., April 4.—If an American elects to challenge the supremacy of Major H. O. D. Segrave's astounding speed record he will follow the conventional American design rather than copy the successful British machine, in the opinion of C. P. Harding, research engineer.

Mr. Harding, who observed the test for the General Motors company, thinks the Englishman "moved too much iron." Major Segrave's automobile weighs about four tons, has a length of approximately twenty-six feet and an overall width of six feet.

The American design runs to the least automobile weight with corresponding narrowness of body. Many successful racing cars are well under two feet in width.

"We believe the major retarding factor in aerodynamics is the vacuum created behind rather than the front end impact and that the vacuum can be cut properly only by the narrow design," Harding said. "In my opinion the weight of the machine could be reduced materially by the other design, with an accompanying release of power for speed."

Americans are not prepared to follow Major Segrave in the use of two motors, Harding said. The British automobile is equipped with two twelve-cylinder motors, capable of generating 500 horsepower each.

Knows Ins and Outs of Courts

NEW YORK, April 4.—Psychians have suggested that women are temperamentally better qualified than are men to work with delinquents. Mrs. Mary Padden, now serving her second term as a member of the state prohibition commission, has capably and sympathetically dealt with the problems of hundreds of persons on parole from penal institutions. She is the only woman member of the body. Mrs. Padden has been closely connected with the welfare organization since 1914 and has an intimate knowledge of the workings of the criminal courts.

Woman Judge In Kentucky Town

LOYALL, Ky., April 4.—Taxi driving over Kentucky mountains earned a police judgeship for Mrs. Hallie Casey, of Loyall. Working as a taxi driver, Mrs. Casey earned her college tuition and then qualified for her present office. A similar position is held in Kentucky by Mrs. May Mullins, of Mount Vernon. "I expect to stick to the law," said Mrs. Casey, "but I can still be considerate of the people before me."

SPECULATE ON WRIST INJURY OF PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, April 4.—More stories than anybody can shake a stick at are in circulation to account for that bad wrist of President Coolidge's.

The one about United States Marshal Oscar Gunwaldsen of North Dakota is a mere guess, like the atomic hypothesis or the Einstein theory of relativity or any of those other scientific surprises.

There's a school of thought which holds that Rebecca bit the president.

Then there's the version that he stumbled over a pile of building material, while inspecting repairs on the White House, and sprained his own wrist.

It's just a swelling, which he can't account for. That's another explanation.

You can hear a fresh yarn any time you care to visit the executive offices.

The mystery is why the "presidential spokesman" doesn't give the public the "low down" on the subject.

A good many people think the president hurt himself in some funny way, like falling out of bed or off his electric horse, and is afraid of being laughed at.

To Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota goes the credit for being first in print, with his Gunwaldsen story. He took Gunwaldsen to see the president, watched them shake hands and noticed, immediately afterward, that the chief executive was using his left mitt.

Maybe Rebecca Did It

As to Rebecca? Rebecca's a raccoon. The Coolidges were to have eaten her, or originally intended, but the president liked her better as a pet. When he moved up to Dupont circle he missed her. So, one day, he brought her home with him from the White House, in his own automobile. The next morning he appeared with his wrist bandaged, and Becky was bundled off to the Rock Creek zoo that same afternoon.

It's also a fact that the president was hustled about a bit, to get him out of danger, while giving the White House repairs the once over. The movie folks shot a picture of him, being brushed aside by the workmen, with mighty little ceremony. That he hurt his wrist isn't so certain. It was censored out of the film if he did.

It's gossiped that the president doesn't like that particular movie of himself very well.

His objection's said to be based on the ground, not that White House workmen made him move rather fast, but that the picture shows him with such an extraordinary number of freckles.

Freckles Revealed

President Coolidge really is extremely freckled. He has the kind of sandy complexion that shows up on admiringly, but generally they're touched out before his pictures are given any publicity.

This one slipped by, somehow.

It also reveals the chief magistrate in very striking full length profile, with quite a noticeable little bay window.

That may be another thing he doesn't overly approve of.

That the president doesn't get anything like the exercise he should, is common talk among those who are closest to him.

He intended to get at least a couple of daily walks between Dupont circle and the executive offices, while the White House was under repairs. For a few days he may be sensitive about it.

FOLLOWS TRACKS HOME

CALDWELL, N. J., April 4.—Blood will tell. Bruce Brown Jr., 6-year-old descendant of Cotton Mather, famous New England preacher, got lost. He walked eight miles home, finding his way, as he had always been told, by the car tracks.

He doesn't fancy the idea of did, but now he relies mainly on an auto.

Having people think he's out of condition.

If his wrist really did swell, without any adequate excuse furnished by Oscar Gunwaldsen, Rebecca or an accident as White House superintendent of construction, it's understandable that he may be sensitive about it.

OLIVER'S POLY
CINDERPATHERS DEFEAT MOORS

Breeding Runs Fast Mile; Moffatt, Jacques Tie in High Jump Event at 5'10

John Moffatt and Robert Jacques, a pair of "Tex" Oliver's nimble-footed high jumpers, both scaled 5 feet, 10 inches and Harold Breeding negotiated the mile in 4 minutes, 32 seconds during Santa Ana high school's 65 to 48 victory over the Alhambra track team in a Coast Preparatory league meet at Alhambra Saturday.

Breeding's work was not so surprising in view of his remarkable running all year but the jumping of the two Poly aces reflected their consistent improvement under Oliver's tutelage and made Santa Ana a possible contender for first place in the league meet at Glendale next Saturday. Both men barely missed clearing 6 feet.

If Moffatt and Jacques can repeat their performances they should finish one-two in this classic, a feat that would greatly enhance Poly's chance to do the unexpected.

Breeding felt in the mood for running and the long-legged miler got out by himself, leaving Bennett, Alhambra's crack runner, far behind. His time of 4:32 was the best Breeding has done except when he was credited with 4:29 in the Southern Counties meet at Huntington Beach.

Captain Harvey Bear again was twice a victor, running the 100 in 10.4 and coasting through a 220 in 23.8. Parslow gave him a good run in the century but the furlong competitors were no match for him.

Two of Oliver's young protégés, Tom Cone and Joe Warner, came through with nice performances. Cone finishing less than a yard behind the winner in the 880 in 2:10.2, while Warner put the shot 39 feet, 10 inches.

Results:

100 yard dash—Bear (SA) first; Parslow (A) second; Lockett (A) third. Time, 10.2 seconds.

120 yard high hurdles—Parslow (A) first; J. Moffatt (SA) second; W. Jacques (A) third. Time, 16.3 seconds.

880 yard run—Taylor (A) first; Cone (SA) second; Lewis (A) third. Time, 2 min. 10.4 sec.

440 yard dash—Warner (SA) first; Boulson (A) second; Patterson (A) third. Time, 55.6 sec.

220 yard dash—Bear (SA) first; Brownie (A) second; Lockett (A) third. Time, 23.8 sec.

Mile run—Breeding (SA) first; Bennett (A) second; Stephens (A) third. Time, 10.2 sec.

220 yard low hurdles—Fairchild (SA) first; Parslow (A) second; J. Moffatt (SA) third. Time, 27.6 sec.

Relay—Won by Santa Ana (Fairchild, Warner, Blakeney, Bear).

Pole vault—Hearn (SA) and Blake-

SANTA ANA LOSES 10-INNING THRILLER TO LONG BEACH IN PREP BASEBALL RACE OPENER

Habits of years are hard to break so it was not strange that Long Beach came to Poly field Saturday and laced Coach Bill Foote's Santa Ana high school baseball team, 5 to 3, in a thrilling 10-inning imbroglio that officially opened the 1927 Coast Preparatory league pennant drive.

Foote had the ball game "in" once. Foote's youngsters had a one-run lead and had two away in the Long Beach half of the ninth only to have a Texas leaguer throw the thing into extra innings and the visitors break the deadlock with a pair of count-ers in the overtime wrestle.

Bob Drysdale, who looks like Harold Lloyd out there on the knoll with his "cheaters" and multi-colored skull cap, fooled the Jackrabbits with his curve-ball and his change of pace for eight frames and exhibited so much "stomach" in several grave situations that the bleachers were strong for him to win his first start in fast company. The route was too far for him, however, and he wobbled a little in the last two stanzas although tight support would have saved him the deadlock with a pair of count-ers in the overtime wrestle.

Despite the fact that the sole way for Mandell to be stripped of his crown is by suffering a knock-out or losing on a foul, the bout looks as a realistic "natural."

Mandell probably the craftiest boxer in any division is given a slight edge to cop the verdict in the eyes of the scribes assembled at the ringside, while Fields' faction is frank in stating that their idol will win decisively.

Placing in all but one event, the half mile, a strong Fullerton track squad captured the annual Orange County league track and field meet at Orange Saturday. Fullerton scored 43 1-5 points.

Huntington Beach took second with 37 7-30 points. Anaheim scored 19 1-6. Tustin 16 9-10. Garden Grove 15 1-6. Orange 11 2-6. Brea-Olinda and San Juan Capistrano failed to place in the Class A meet.

Huntington Beach's midgets won the Class C meet. Breeding, diminutive pole vaulter for the oil city squad, beat out Alsip of Anaheim for first place in the Class C pole vault, the last event of the day. Anaheim and Huntington Beach were tied at 21 each at the beginning of the event. Breeding cleared 10 feet in winning the event although he had never vaulted more than 9 feet before in his life. His victory gave the Huntington Beach midgets the meet with 27 point. Anaheim scored 24. Tustin 10. San Juan Capistrano 6. Fullerton 1. Garden Grove 1. Orange 3. and Brea-Olinda failed to place.

Tustin took an early lead in the A meet, knocking off 14 1-2 points in the first five events, but was out of the race after that. Russel Hind, fleet Tustin sprinter, took both the 100 and the 220 dashes and was high point man of the meet. Hind has been laid up all year with a pulled tendon and these were his first real tests. His time in the 100 was 10.2 seconds and in the 220 23.2 seconds.

Fullerton athletes carried away first honors in four events. Huntington Beach took three firsts, Garden Grove and Tustin two each and Anaheim and Orange one.

Stinson, Huntington Beach vaulter, who has been laid up with a broken collar bone for the entire season, appeared in competition for the first time and with less than a week of practice won his even at 11 feet.

It's Dangerous To Be Too Thin

Demands of Present Day Fashion for Straight Line Skin-niness Wrecking Health of Thousands.

It's the worst kind of folly to sacrifice your Health for Fashion or to daily ignore a condition you know is seriously wrong.

You do not need to be a Doctor to understand the dangers of subnormal weight. Common Sense and the fact that Life Insurance Companies refuse to sell insurance to those who are "too thin" furnish convincing proofs that cannot be denied.

If you are five or more pounds underweight, don't neglect the matter, but start the use of McCoy's Tablets at once. A wonderful tablet containing the world's own flesh building value, the power and strength of Cod Liver Oil—without the terrible taste and odor. At all good druggists (60 tablets $6c). CHILD'S BEST LAXATIVE— CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

MOTHER! Even if cross, feverish, bilious, constipated or full of cold, children love the pleasant taste of "California Fig Syrup." A teaspoonful never fails to clean the liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Adv.

The entire car at times is given a dynamometer test to discover the amount of vibration or a number of other details about its running behavior. In this case, the front or rear wheels are run over a pair of drums driven by a dynamometer, and the rest of the car is chained down.

Whatever is sought is recorded by apparatus designed for its special use.

Brakes are tried out in a special garage. Engine fans and fan belts are subject of experiment. An engine and radiator are placed before a wind tunnel to discover the radiator and fan efficiency in cooling the motor.

After Noise and Vibration

The slightest detail for improvement isn't overlooked.

One of the most delicate tests being conducted today is the search for the sources of vibration and noise in the car. For this search, the engineers enlist the services of a radio amplifier, built so as to dampen its own vibration and record only those of the engine or automobile.

The tubes are placed on rubber mountings, suspended freely, and they are covered with heavy layers of tape. Four stages of audio frequency are used, after the microphone picks up the faintest of sound to be recorded.

In the same laboratory, electrical engineers work with 220,000 volts in order to discover the vagaries of the low voltage in the auto's ignition system.

A large dark room is used for the testing of headlights under conditions of the road at night.

Cold weather conditions are simulated in a room that can be brought down to as low as 20 degrees below zero. In there a car can be attached by belt or chain to a dynamometer outside the room and run for various cold weather tests.

Or an engine is placed in the room, attached to the dynamometer and tested for freezing, or for crankcase oil dilution, or for any of the other cold weather difficulties that face engineers today.

A rubber laboratory has for its purpose the design of rubber engine and chassis mountings and other uses of rubber to make driving easier.

Methods Also Improved

An electroplating laboratory is now being devoted to the study of chromium plating of bright surfaces, such as radiator shells, door knobs and so on. Chromium is one of the hardest metals in existence, it is rust proof and durable. It is now being tried out for automotive use.

"Beethoven," Dr. Heermann said, "pleased the world, but he had a hard time pleasing himself. The best of musicians have difficulty reading the carelessly scribbled notes."

On one of the pages "oder," meaning "or," was written between two staves. "It is an example," Dr. Heermann said, "of Beethoven's method of writing, first trying one idea and then another."

Beethoven was born at Bonn, on the Rhine, in Germany in 1770, and died at the age of 57 on March 26, 1827.

An oak tree symbolic of Beethoven's sturdy strength and love of nature was planted at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music Saturday and an all-Beethoven program was given by the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra.

The notes are scrawls, with no end of corrections, eliminations, alterations and revisions.

"Beethoven," Dr. Heermann said, "pleased the world, but he had a hard time pleasing himself. The best of musicians have difficulty reading the carelessly scribbled notes."

Research goes even into improvements of manufacturing methods, in order indirectly to improve the car. Therefore, one research laboratory includes an experimental foundry where foundry methods are studied, where accurate methods for testing coke and iron are sought, and where the properties of new materials are uncovered.

The work of the automotive research laboratory is so tremendous and so varied that it requires a shop of its own where parts are made to the special design of the engineers. In a shop like this, a new experimental chassis, including all but the body, can be built.

NEXT WEEK—Klein will take up the introductory step in auto

manufacture-tools and gages.

CAR ENGINES NOW GET MOST OF ATTENTION

By ISRAEL KLEIN

Science Editor, NEA Service. There isn't a part of the present-day automobile that engineering experts consider perfect enough to absolve it from further research and improvement.

The engine and the fuel system are getting the most attention today. But every other part of the car, from the transmission in the rear to the paint on the body, has its problem with which the engineers are contending.

An average transmission is set up, with a slight change based on calculations and ideas of the engineer to make it a sturdier and more workable mechanism. It is attached by means of a shaft to a dynamometer, a motor which runs the transmission at definite speed, as required by the test.

The transmission is kept going until it breaks down. That is called a life test. On the figures obtained—the mileage as recorded by the dynamometer, the amount of oil needed for lubrication, and the wear on the gears—engineers base their design for a better mechanism.

An Engine Test

Rear axles are varied slightly and put through a life test, until run by the dynamometer until they break under the strain. So are gears of all kinds, crankshafts and entire engines.

A stock six-cylinder engine is run day and night at a speed of 2800 revolutions a minute, until it breaks down. That's almost twice as fast as its speed under ordinary conditions. It's so fast that the exhaust manifold is red hot and the block is vibrating under a terrific strain.

The test is to see what happens to the valves when the engine runs at this high speed. From the results may come a new valve design, or a new valve arrangement, to enable the engine to take higher speeds and greater loads without effort.

The amount of power or efficiency lost through the transmission is another problem for the engineer. When he discovers this, he'll try to design a transmission that will be less wasteful.

Search for Efficiency

So the engineer puts a transmission between two dynamometers, one driving it and measuring the input, the other being driven by it and measuring its output. The difference measures the efficiency—or inefficiency—of the transmission.

The entire car at times is given a dynamometer test to discover the amount of vibration or a number of other details about its running behavior. In this case, the front or rear wheels are run over a pair of drums driven by a dynamometer, and the rest of the car is chained down.

Whatever is sought is recorded by apparatus designed for its special use.

Brakes are tried out in a special garage. Engine fans and fan belts are subject of experiment. An engine and radiator are placed before a wind tunnel to discover the radiator and fan efficiency in cooling the motor.

After Noise and Vibration

The slightest detail for improvement isn't overlooked.

One of the most delicate tests being conducted today is the search for the sources of vibration and noise in the car. For this search, the engineers enlist the services of a radio amplifier, built so as to dampen its own vibration and record only those of the engine or automobile.

The tubes are placed on rubber mountings, suspended freely, and they are covered with heavy layers of tape. Four stages of audio frequency are used, after the microphone picks up the faintest of sound to be recorded.

In the same laboratory, electrical engineers work with 220,000 volts in order to discover the vagaries of the low voltage in the auto's ignition system.

A large dark room is used for the testing of headlights under conditions of the road at night.

Cold weather conditions are simulated in a room that can be brought down to as low as 20 degrees below zero. In there a car can be attached by belt or chain to a dynamometer outside the room and run for various cold weather tests.

Or an engine is placed in the room, attached to the dynamometer and tested for freezing, or for crankcase oil dilution, or for any of the other cold weather difficulties that face engineers today.

A rubber laboratory has for its purpose the design of rubber engine and chassis mountings and other uses of rubber to make driving easier.

Methods Also Improved

An electroplating laboratory is now being devoted to the study of chromium plating of bright surfaces, such as radiator shells, door knobs and so on. Chromium is one of the hardest metals in existence, it is rust proof and durable. It is now being tried out for automotive use.

"Beethoven," Dr. Heermann said,

"pleased the world, but he had a hard time pleasing himself. The best of musicians have difficulty

reading the carelessly scribbled

notes."

Research goes even into improvements of manufacturing methods, in order indirectly to improve the car. Therefore, one research laboratory includes an experimental foundry where foundry methods are studied, where accurate methods for testing coke and iron are sought, and where the properties of new materials are uncovered.

The work of the automotive research laboratory is so tremendous and so varied that it requires

a shop of its own where parts are

made to the special design of the engineers. In a shop like this, a new experimental chassis, including all but the body, can be built.

NEXT WEEK—Klein will take up the introductory step in auto

manufacture-tools and gages.

HOOVER CASTS HIS EYE UPON KELLOGG JOB

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Gossip in the cabinet on these spring afternoons is said to run toward a general feeling that Secretary of Commerce Hoover will succeed Frank B. Kellogg as secretary of state.

This is not a new suggestion, but the quarters from which it now emanates may lend it added weight.

Hoover is said to have cherished a desire to occupy the state department job. It might be considered likely to afford him a chance to further his presidential ambitions and might indicate that President Coolidge looked kindly on those ambitions.

On the other hand, Hoover will have plenty to say about whether he will succeed Kellogg. It may be that he now considers the post a thankless job and holding prospect of nothing but grief. Hoover is extremely sensitive to criticism and has observed perform the bitter criticism to which Mr. Kellogg has been subjected in recent months. The mere possibility of a senatorial investigation of the state department might cause him to think twice, for Hoover's most distinguished enemies are to be found in the Senate.

If the widespread talk of a senate investigation should take more definite form, the chances of James W. Wadsworth, erstwhile senator from New York, will not be diminished.

Wadsworth, young and of sufficient personality still to have a political career ahead of him, is very popular with the senators—even with many Democrats.

Ex-Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin is not so popular, but he played close to Coolidge and Kellogg during the last Congress and he is not to be dismissed as a possibility.

President Coolidge, however, is credited with a tendency toward abandoning the old habit of appointing "lame ducks" to important jobs and the general opposition to the practice might well dissuade him from resuming it.

"My, what a house," moaned Clowny as he slowly dragged his legs along the road. "I hardly think I'll reach the shack. I'd rather flop down on my back. I never knew I weighed enough to make a heavy load."

The Tinymites didn't think this nice, but when they all considered twice, they knew that Peter's troubles after all, were none of theirs. Said Scouty, "Let's be our way. The sun is out. Let's run and play. We all will be much wiser if we mind our own affairs."

"Oh, I'm too tired to play right now," said Clowny; "I must rest somehow. Why don't we find a haystack where we can all loaf a while?" The others looked both near and far. Then Copy shouted, "There we are. I see a dandy haystack, and it's not more than a mile."

But, my! Oh, my! It sure seemed far. "I wonder what you think!"

THE WOMAN'S DAY

Litters of pups and kittens in porcelain and china are being shown by our town's swankiest department store. Theirs would be seductive ad reads—"Whole families of cats sleep contentedly by fire-sides. Kittens curl up on cushions in odd corners. Dogs of many varieties and sizes form interesting groupings under table lamps." It seems that you can get a sleeping cat for as low as $9, and as for letting sleeping dogs lie, who can resist them when they cost but $15?

THE WHAT-NOT

The old-fashioned what-nots are back, with their little shelves all ready for the china litters. It's just the latest manifestation of the revival of the old-fashioned. For a time we were content with the early American. Our homes resembled the abodes of Miles Standish and Priscilla, with our high-boys, our Windsor chairs, our drop-leaf tables and spool beds. Now we are getting back to the Victorian old-fashioned. What-nots with china animals and Dresden shepherdesses, Morris chairs, Tidied-on chair backs, "sofas."

MOTHER IS UPSET

Frankly, the whole situation is bewildering. Mothers who reluctantly banished to the attic their cherished Lares and Penates as the result of scorn and derision from their offspring, and who filled their home with overstuffed living room suites and oval dining room tables, suddenly find the offspring jeering at the new furniture and demand that the old bureaus and corkscrew-legged tables be brought down from the attic.

NOT OUR HOMES

The whole trouble is that our homes are not our, but are products of what the commercial world says they should be. If ever, and whenever, we learn that we are the ones who live in our houses and that they should be furnished with what suits us and fits us and makes us comfortable and at peace, then we'll stop this insane rushing from attic to department store when the

ASTRINGENT LOTIONS

There are so many different kinds of astringents, that the woman whose skin is flabby, or coarse grained, can choose from a dozen inexpensive varieties.

Beginning with the mildest—a plain cold water rinse after the face has been washed, will keep the skin fresh looking and keep the minute muscles under the skin properly tight, for years after they would normally sag. The colder the water, the more astringent it is, and the woman who makes a daily habit of this cold rinse, will be sure to keep a fresh clear skin all her life.

Next comes a milky emulsion of tincture of benzoin and water—rose water or plain boiled water. It smells pleasantly, it needs nothing to preserve it, a bottle will stay fresh as long as you want. I'd suggest all but filling your bottle with water, then adding the tincture drop by drop until the solution looks like good quality milk. When you've washed and dried your face, pour a little into the cup of one hand and rub it over the skin.

There is always salt water—a little sea salt in cold water used as a rinse, or better yet, if you are only treating the face, ordinary table salt which dissolves more easily. A large spoonful to a basin is enough. And there is ice—best of all astringents, perhaps. Put a lump in a bit of rag and rub it over and over the face and neck after you have washed and rinsed. This is particularly good if you've rubbed the skin first with cold cream and washed it off.

Then there is white of egg. This is for deep wrinkles and badly sagging muscles, for flabby chinlines and such things. Wipe the skin clean with cold cream, wipe off, rub on.

An astringent may be good for your skin

Meantime, stop using all the cosmetics you mention. A girl of 17 usually has no need for anything other than a little powder to remove shine from her skin, or a lotion for chapping, and possibly some cream for cleansing when the skin is very much begrimed.

Tomorrow—Answered Letters

Just then they saw a little girl who through the air just seemed to whirl. And then she'd sway both up and down and laugh with all her might. "The cutest girl I ever saw," said Scouty. "Why, it's Margery Daw. She's riding on a testet. Look and see if I'm not right."

And, sure enough, that's who it was. The whole bunch ran right up because, they also wished to take a ride upon the see-saw board. "You're very welcome," Margery cried, "just hop right on and take a ride." And, as the Tinymites scrambled on, fair Margery sat and roared.

(The Tinymites see new sights in the next story.)

SWIM TEACHER AT 'Y' GIVEN HIGH RATING $187,603.231 COLLECTED IN GAS TAXATION

In line with the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. policy of giving instruction in swimming and life saving, Physical Director R. R. Russick, in charge of the physical education department, has met the requirements for appointment as an official instructor and examiner in swimming and life saving for the Y. M. C. A. of the United States, and has just received his certificate to that effect from Dr. John Brown, secretary of the national department of physical education. This certificate of competency, it was explained at the association offices, not only extends official recognition to the work done by the local association but makes Director Russick eligible for transfer, involving promotion, to supervisory positions of similar departments in other localities.

It will not involve any particular change in methods or policy, so far as Russick's work is concerned, for he has hereto been carefully following the system prescribed for such work, but this appointment has the advantage of giving his pupils added recognition.

Of especial interest in this connection is a class of boys from the Willard junior high school whom Russick is instructing at this time in the finer points of swimming and diving. This class is made up of boys who have already learned to swim, and who thus are able to go in for improvement of style and speed. After only three or four lessons, they are showing amazing advancement, and Russick anticipates that some of them will be heard from during the coming season in speed contests and in fancy diving competition.

The boys who have enrolled for this course are: Rollin Craig, Mack Gibson, George Griffith, Wayne Gross, Bernard Haupert, James Hall, Hideo Higashi, Marvin Johnson, Orlando Salazar, Ernest Smith, H. C. Rutledge, Lawrence Patterson, Max Wilson, Walter Wilson, Garth Benjamin and Jack Griffith.

Plans for the Y. M. C. A. physical work this spring it was disclosed include unusual emphasis on swimming, in view of the approaching vacation season. Russick does not limit his instruction to boys, but undertakes to give both individual and class instruction to men who wish to learn to swim.

FOREIGN WOMEN IN ECONOMIC FIELDS

BERLIN, April 4.—The economic status of women in Europe has changed so during the last decade that girls leaving the high schools refuse to enter the factories until they have become fully convinced that other vocations are closed to them.

Frau Luise Schmidt, teacher of trades at the Hamburg high school, declared that two-thirds of the young women between 16 and 18 in Germany choose occupations that require preparatory training.

Even those who finally go to the factories for employment continue to study for a journeyman's or master's certificate.

Similar observations by the vocational advisory board of Zurich in Switzerland bear out Frau Schmidt's statement that the attitude toward unskilled labor among women is changing all over Europe. The board's survey showed that of 970 girls leaving the schools of the Zurich canton more than two-thirds take up definite vocations.
